The Benefits of Health Care Reform In the 2nd Congressional District of Idaho

Committee on Energy and Commerce

The U.S. House of Representatives will soon vote on health care reform legislation. This legislation will make health care affordable for the middle class, provide security for seniors, and guarantee access to health insurance for the uninsured – while reducing the federal deficit by over $100 billion over the next decade. This analysis examines the benefits of the legislation in the 2nd Congressional District of Idaho, which is represented by Rep. Michael K. Simpson.

In Rep. Simpson's district, the health care reform bill will:

- Improve coverage for 425,000 residents with health insurance.
- Give tax credits and other assistance to up to 191,000 families and 20,100 small businesses to help them afford coverage.
- Improve Medicare for 95,000 beneficiaries, including closing the donut hole.
- Extend coverage to 80,500 uninsured residents.
- Guarantee that 15,900 residents with pre-existing conditions can obtain coverage.
- Protect 1,100 families from bankruptcy due to unaffordable health care costs.
- Allow 67,000 young adults to obtain coverage on their parents' insurance plans.
- Provide millions of dollars in new funding for 35 community health centers.
- Reduce the cost of uncompensated care for hospitals and other health care providers by $104 million annually.

Affordable High-Quality Health Care for the Middle Class

Essential health insurance reforms. Approximately 62% of the district (425,000 residents) receives health care coverage from an employer or through policies purchased on the individual market. Under the legislation, individuals with insurance can keep the coverage they have now, and it will get better. The insurance reforms in the bill prohibit annual and lifetime limits, eliminate rescissions for individuals who become ill while insured, ban coverage denials for pre-existing conditions, and reduce the cost of preventive care. To rein in soaring insurance costs, the reforms also limit the amount insurance companies can spend on administrative expenses, profits, and other overhead.

Historic health care tax cuts. Those who do not receive health care coverage through their employer will be able to purchase coverage at group rates through the new health insurance exchange. To make this insurance affordable, the legislation contains the largest middle-class tax cut for health care in history, providing middle class families with incomes up to $88,000 for a family of four with tax credits to help pay for coverage in the exchange. For a family of four making $50,000, the average tax credit will be approximately $5,800. There are 191,000 households in the district that could qualify for these credits if they purchase health insurance through the exchange or, in the case of households with incomes below 133% of poverty, receive coverage through Medicaid.

Coverage for individuals with pre-existing conditions. There are 15,900 uninsured individuals in the district who have pre-existing medical conditions like cancer, heart disease, and diabetes. Under the bill's insurance reforms, they cannot be denied affordable coverage.

Financial security for families. There were 1,100 health care-related bankruptcies in the district in 2008, caused primarily by the health care costs not covered by insurance. The bill caps annual out-of-pocket costs at $6,200 for individuals and $12,400 for families who purchase insurance through the exchange or who are insured by small businesses. It also eliminates annual and lifetime limits on all insurance coverage. These reforms ensure that no family will have to face financial ruin because of high health care costs.

Security for Seniors

Improving Medicare. There are 95,000 Medicare beneficiaries in the district. The legislation improves their benefits by providing free preventive and wellness care, improving primary and coordinated care, and enhancing nursing home care. The bill also strengthens the Medicare Trust Fund, extending its solvency from 2017 to 2026.

Closing the Part D donut hole. Each year, 9,400 Medicare beneficiaries in the district enter the Part D donut hole and are forced to pay the full cost of their prescription drugs. Under the bill, these beneficiaries will receive a $250 rebate in 2010, 50% discounts on brand name drugs beginning in 2011, and complete closure of the donut hole within a decade. A typical beneficiary who enters the donut hole will see savings of over $700 in 2011 and over $3,000 by 2020.

New Coverage Options for Young Adults

New lower-cost health care options for young adults. The legislation will allow young adults to remain on their parents' policies until they turn 26. There are 67,000 young adults in the district who could benefit from this option. For individuals under age 30, the bill creates new, inexpensive policies that allow them to obtain protection from catastrophic health care costs.

Helping Small Businesses

Helping small businesses obtain health insurance. Under the legislation, small businesses with 100 employees or less will be able to join the health insurance exchange, benefiting from group rates and a greater choice of insurers. There are 21,600 small businesses in the district that could benefit from this provision.

Tax credits for small businesses. Small businesses with 25 employees or less and average wages of less than $50,000 will qualify for tax credits of up to 50% of the costs of providing health insurance. There are up to 20,100 small businesses in the district that could qualify for these credits.

Covering the Uninsured

Coverage of the uninsured. The legislation would extend coverage to 95% of all Americans. If this level of coverage is reached in the district, 80,500 residents who currently do not have health insurance will receive coverage.

Relieving the burden of uncompensated care. In 2008, health care providers in the district provided uncompensated care to individuals who lacked insurance coverage and were unable to pay their bills. Under the legislation, these costs of uncompensated care will be reduced by $104 million.

Supporting community health centers. There are 35 community health centers in the district that provide health care to the poor and medically underserved. Nationwide, the legislation would provide $11 billion in new funding for these centers. If the community health centers in the district receive the average level of support, the 35 centers will receive $45.5 million in new assistance.

Deficit Responsibility

No deficit spending. The cost of health care reform under the legislation is fully paid for, in large part by eliminating waste, fraud, abuse, and excessive profits for private insurers. The legislation will reduce the deficit by $130 billion over the next ten years, and by about $1.2 trillion over the second decade.

This analysis is based upon the following sources: the U.S. Census (data on insurance rates, small businesses, and young adult population); the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (data on Medicare and Part D enrollment); the Department of Health and Human Services (data on health care-related bankruptcies, uncompensated care, and pre-existing conditions); the Health Resources and Services Administration (data on community health centers); and the Congressional Budget Office (estimates of the percentage of citizens with health insurance coverage under health care reform legislation).

Rules Committee Democrats Call For Hearings on House Ethics

Ranking Member, Rep. Louise M. Slaughter Critical of Rampant Conflicts of Interest

Washington, DC - Led by Ranking Member, Rep. Louise M. Slaughter (D-NY-28), Democratic members of the House Committee on Rules today called on Republican Chairman David Dreier to hold hearings on House Ethics, and specifically on H. Res. 131, a bipartisan proposal to restore the ethics complaint process after it was unilaterally gutted by the Republican leadership at the beginning of the 109th Congress.

"The House Ethics process is broken and its time to fix it," said Rep. Slaughter. She added "The Rules Committee must take this issue up and show once and for all that we are committed to the integrity and honor of this House."

Although H. Res. 131 would typically be referred to the Subcommittee on Rules & the Organization of the House, which is chaired by Rep. Hastings of Washington, the Democratic Members of the Committee have requested a full committee hearing instead, given the obvious conflict-of-interest it would create for Rep. Hastings, whom the Republican leadership recently made chairman of the Committee on Standards of Official Conduct (Ethics Committee).

Rep. Slaughter, Ranking Member of the Rules Committee, the committee with jurisdiction over the procedures of the Ethics Committee, has been a vocal opponent of the Republican leadership's continued efforts to destroy the House Ethics process.

"The Republican leadership of this Congress has engaged in a strategy of retribution and whitewash for their own ethical shortcomings. They subverted the integrity of the Ethics process and they must be stopped

," said Rep. Slaughter. She added,

It is time to air this out publicly in the form of hearings. The public has a right to know what a mess has been made of their government."

&q

"Given that Chairman Dreier, Rep. Sessions and Rep. Cole of the Rules Committee all supported gutting the Ethics process, and have each contributed $5,000 to Majority Leader Tom DeLay's legal defense fund, holding these hearings becomes all the more important. Mr. Dreier must demonstrate to the American people that the Rules Committee Republicans will no longer place the political survival of an ethically challenged Majority Leader above the integrity of the House

," said Rep. Slaughter.

LETTER TO CHAIRMAN DREIER:

March 17, 2005

Chairman David Dreier

House Committee on Rules

H-312, Capitol Building

Dear Chairman Dreier:

We are writing to request that the Rules Committee hold an original jurisdiction hearing on H. Res. 131, a bipartisan proposal to restore the ethics complaint process to the one that existed before the Republican leadership unilaterally changed it at the beginning of the 109th Congress. H. Res. 131, which currently has 204 co-sponsors, was referred to the Rules Committee on March 1, 2005, but to this date, the Committee has taken no action on it.

Although this resolution should properly be referred to the Subcommittee on Rules & the Organization of the House, which is chaired by Rep. Hastings of Washington, we request a full committee hearing instead, given the conflict it would create for Rep. Hastings, whom the Republican leadership recently made Chairman of the Committee on Standards of Official Conduct (Ethics Committee). We ask for this hearing because it would give our committee an opportunity to begin repairing the damage that has been done over the past few months to the House ethics process.

When the House adopted the 109th Rules package on January 4, 2005 on a party-line vote, it was the first time in the history of the House ethics process (which dates back to 1968) that the House has changed its ethics rules without the involvement of both parties. The two preceding ethics rules reforms (in 1989 and 1997) were undertaken by bipartisan task forces that spent months discussing and drafting new rules. In 1997, for example, under Speaker Gingrich, the House created the Task Force on Ethics Reform to address the problems that had appeared in the ethics process during the 104th Congress. This 12-person group (6 Republicans and 6 Democrats) worked for more than four months to draft new rules, which they submitted to the full House for debate and approval in September, 1997.

Rep. Mollohan's resolution would repeal the three changes the 109th rules package made to these 1997 rules. Most importantly, his resolution would restore the so-called "45-day rule" (also called the "automatic transmittal rule"), a procedural safeguard the 1997 Task Force developed to handle the situation in which the Ethics Committee fails to act on a properly-filed complaint within 45 days. Under this rule, if the Committee did not act in 45 days, the complaint was automatically forwarded to an investigative subcommittee.

This 45-day rule was a cornerstone of the task force recommendations because it helped ensure that a valid complaint would be judged on its merits and would not be stalled in the committee due to partisan politics. The 109th rules package substituted this safeguard with what has been called the "automatic dismissal rule," which would allow 5 Committee Members from one party to take no action for 45 days and thereby allow a properly-filed, meritorious complaint to be automatically dismissed without further investigation. As Ranking Member Mollohan recently noted, when the House considered a similar automatic dismissal rule in 1997, it rejected it by a bipartisan vote of 236-181 (vote # 410, Sept. 18, 1997).

In short, the rules changes the Republican Leadership unilaterally imposed on January 4, 2005 destroyed the fundamental principle underlying the 1997 reforms and the consistent, long-standing practice of the Ethics Committee---that the Committee's operations must always be based on bipartisan consensus. These rules changes have dealt a mortal blow to a process whose goal, as the 1997 Task Force put it, is "a nonpartisan peer review system which has the trust and confidence of both the Members and the American people."

We direct you to the words of the House's resident experts on the ethics process, the Chairman and Ranking Member of the Ethics Committee in the 108th Congress. During the debate on the opening day of the 109th

Congress, then-Chairman Hefley said:

I have had the privilege of serving on the Committee on Standards of Official Conduct since 1997 and have had an additional responsibility as serving as chairman since 2001. And during that time, I have learned one paramount lesson: ethics must be bipartisan. The ethics process must be bipartisan. Ethics reform must be bipartisan, and the ethics committee must be bipartisan...The ethics committee is a bipartisan committee that follows the evidence wherever the evidence leads. Meaningful ethics reform must be genuinely bipartisan. To have a bipartisan process, any significant change in the ethics rules must be made only after careful, thorough bipartisan consideration, as was done in 1989 and 1997. (Congressional Record, Jan. 4, 2004, p. H 16)

When he introduced H. Res. 131, Ranking Member Mollohan expressed almost the exact same sentiments. He said:

Approval of this resolution, Mr. Speaker, is also necessary for one other reason, and that is to affirm the long-standing principle in the House that major changes in the ethics rules and procedures must be made on a bipartisan basis. When the House revisited its ethics rules and procedures in both 1989 and 1997, the work was done through bipartisan task forces that gave thoughtful consideration to proposals from all Members. In contrast, Mr. Speaker, the changes made in the rules package adopted in January were made on a party line vote, with no input whatsoever from anyone in the minority. Approval of this resolution will be a critical step in restoring the bipartisanship that is essential if there is to be a meaningful ethics process in the House. (Congressional Record, March 1, 2005, p. H 832)

Hundreds of media reports have documented the Republican Leadership's push to alter the ethics rules to protect Majority Leader Tom DeLay from scrutiny for his actions over the past several years. In the wake of two unanimous Ethics Committee actions concluding that Majority Leader DeLay acted improperly on three separate occasions in the 108th Congress and a Texas grand jury indictment against two of the Majority Leader's top aides, the Republican Leadership undertook a systematic effort to shield Mr. DeLay from being scrutinized for his behavior.

Other than the changes in the 109th rules package we discuss in the section above, the Republican Leadership jammed a rule through the Republican Conference that would have allowed Majority Leader DeLay to keep his leadership post even if he were indicted of a crime by a grand jury. Even more shocking was the Republican Leadership's proposal to eliminate the long-standing "general rule of conduct" in our House Rules that requires Members to conduct themselves "in a manner which shall reflect creditably on the House of Representatives." Thankfully, the rank-and-file Members of the Republican Conference eventually killed these ideas after public outcry.

The Republican Leadership did not seem to be deterred by this setback dealt by their Republican colleagues, nor were they satisfied with the passage of the ethics rules on the first day of the 109th Congress. Since that time, they have purged the Ethics Committee of those Republican Members who dared act in the best interests of the House, rather than the Majority Leader. Speaker Hastert recently removed Chairman Hefley and two other Republican Members (Reps. LaTourrette and Hulshof) from the Ethics Committee because of their outspoken support for keeping the ethics rules from the 108th Congress. Within weeks of this move, the new chairman of the committee, our Rules Committee colleague Rep. Hastings of Washington, fired two long-time Ethics Committee professional staffers.

As you know, the Ethics Committee has not yet organized in the 109th Congress because the Committee has not been able to get a majority vote to adopt the Committee's new rules. We think this stalemate is the direct result of the partisanship that the Republican Leadership has brought to the ethics process over the past few months.

We think a good first step to begin repairing the damage to the ethics process would be a hearing on H. Res. 131. As the 1997 Task Force observed in its final report: "Reform of the standards process in the House has always been conducted in a bipartisan manner." We sincerely hope that the 109th Congress will not go down in history as the one that ended this invaluable tradition.

We look forward to your response to our request.

Sincerely,

Hon. Louise M. Slaughter, Ranking Member

Hon. James McGovern, M.C.

Hon. Alcee Hastings, M.C.

Hon. Doris Matsui, M.C.
